Summary

Having studied media at both college and University, I have now completed my studying and I am seeking full time employment. During my studying period, I learned key features about how the media industry works, in several different fields including Radio, Journalism, Public Relations, and Video production. Alongside this, I have worked and gained expensive experience in retail, customer service, face to face customer interaction and I have voluntary participated in several events as well as organised and ran my own. I aim to find a full time job in which I can face new problems and use my skills to overcome them while learning new skills at the same time.
